

in 1986. Then for a while he worked as a corporate lawyer in Turkey. After that he obtained his MA in History from the Bogazici University (Robert College) in Istanbul in 1992. The same year Seyhun came to Canada after being accepted by McGill University. In 2002 He earned his PhD from the Institute of Islamic Studies, Mc Gill University. Currently Seyhun is an Associate Professor at the University of Winnipeg, History Department where he has taught Islamic/Middle Eastern History since 2003. Email: a.seyhun@uwinnipeg.ca

SHERRY SULLIVAN has 25 years of experience in various not-for-profit, government, and postsecondary institutions. She earned a BSc. as well as a MEd from Brandon University. She is currently a PhD. student in the Peace and Conflict Studies program at the University of Manitoba. Her research interests relate to the integration of social justice education into postsecondary institutions. Email: hdgsmom@gmail.com

CRIS TOFFOLO is Professor and Chair of the Justice Studies Department at Northeastern Illinois University, Chicago. Trained as a political theorist, she currently teaching courses on theories of justice, and human rights. Her publications include The Arab League, Chelsea House, 2007, and Emancipating Cultural Pluralism, ed., SUNY Press, 2003. During her career she studied, taught and worked in various developing and post conflict countries throughout the Global South, beginning in 1981 in Nigeria. Currently she is editing a volume on international peace education and also researching educational initiatives in post-genocide Rwanda. She holds a PhD and MA from the University of Notre Dame in political theory and comparative politics, an MA in public policy from George Washington University, and a BS with honors from Alma College. Email: c-toffolo@neiu.edu

KATHLEEN WILSON is an MA student in the joint Peace and Conflict Studies (PACS) program at the University of Manitoba and the University of Winnipeg. After several years as a high school English teacher in Winnipeg, Manitoba, Ms. Wilson joined the MA PACS Program to explore resource extraction and the enduring effects of colonization, as well as current decolonization efforts in Canada. Email: umbucho2@myumanitoba.ca