

NOTES ON AUTHORS

---

WORKU ABERRA is a professor of Economics at Dawson College, Montreal, Canada. His area of research includes child labour, economic integration, and the political economy of development. He holds a PhD from McGill University, specializing in economic development and international trade. Currently, he is doing research on political instability the value of the Ethiopian currency (Birr). Email: waberra@dawsoncollege.qc.ca.

VOLKER FRANKE is Professor of Conflict Management at Kennesaw State University and Founder and Executive Director of TRENDS Global, an NGO dedicated to research and capacity strengthening in community-focused peacebuilding and conflict transformation (<https://trendsglobal.org>). Dr. Franke has extensive experience in research and capacity building in conflict management and adaptive peacebuilding. Currently, he directs the HOPE Liberia Program. Email: vfranke@kennesaw.edu.

NEIL FUNK-UNRAU is Associate Professor Emeritus of Conflict Resolution Studies at Menno Simons College, affiliated with Canadian Mennonite University. He taught courses on conflict resolution, restorative justice, and identity conflict from 2000 to 2021 and served four years as Associate Dean of Menno Simons College. He has written articles and book chapters on public apology processes and related restorative justice themes. Email: n.funkunrau66@gmail.com.

PEACE RESEARCH

The Canadian Journal of Peace and Conflict Studies

Volume 55, Number 2 (2023): 129-131

©2024 Peace Research

AKHTER HUSSAIN KHAN holds a PhD in political science from Jamia Millia Islamia University, New Delhi. He has taught political science in different capacities at Jamia Millia Islamia, New Delhi; Lovely Professional University, Punjab; and the Centre for International Relations, Islamic University of Science and Technology, Kashmir. He currently teaches at one of the constituent colleges of University of Kashmir. Khan was a gold medalist at the master's level and received a doctoral fellowship from Indian Council of Social Science Research during his PhD. His research interests include international relations, foreign policy, and state politics. Email: akhter.ku@gmail.com.

KHRUKULU KHUSOH holds a PhD in political science from the University of Hyderabad (2015) and is Assistant Professor at ICFAI University, Nagaland (2015–). Her research interests are conflict resolution, human rights issues in Northeast India, the Armed Forces (Special Powers) Act and its impact on civilians in Northeast India, and women and armed conflict in Northeast India. Her future research interests include addressing political and social issues across Northeast India. Email: khrukulu@gmail.com.

SHEEBA MALIK holds a PhD in political science from Aligarh Muslim University, India. She currently teaches political science at the constituent college of Kashmir University. She qualified for India's National Eligibility Test in 2018. Her research interests include gender, human rights, and peace and conflict. Email: sheebamalik1212@gmail.com.

ERICH SCHELLHAMMER recently retired from Royal Roads University, Victoria, Canada, after a long career in justice studies. His research interests have ranged from finding philosophical justification for the merits of cultural diversity, to a phenomenological grounding of human rights in human ontology, to embracing recent leadership studies to identify a new leadership category, that of peace leadership. His latest academic interest is in combining modern leadership studies with peace and conflict studies to formulate a framework for peace leadership. He was the inaugural chair of the Peace Leadership Affinity Group of the International Leadership Association and has published numerous articles on peace leadership. Erich lives in Canada and in Germany. Email: Erich.Schellhammer@RoyalRoads.ca.

ERIC WOLTERSTORFF is CEO of Sovereignty First, LLC (<https://sovereigntyfirst.com/>), an American social enterprise whose mission is to accelerate the world's ability to solve complex problems by raising the psychological and cultural capacity of communities to collaborate. Currently, Dr. Wolterstorff serves as intervention lead for the HOPE for a Better Future trauma-informed community peacebuilding program in Liberia. Email: eric.wolterstorff@sovereigntyfirst.com.